

Spotlight on Ottawa: Advocating for Human Rights Amid Global Crises

Thursday, October 10, 2024 | 2:00 - 3:00 PM

Virtual Event | Zoom

The world is witnessing a growing number of human rights and humanitarian crises in Sudan, Palestine, Afghanistan, Ukraine and beyond. The need for Canadian leadership to advance justice and accountability for these abuses has never been more urgent.

Join us virtually on Thursday, October 10, from 2-3 PM, for an insightful discussion with HRW Canada Director, Farida Deif. She will share details of her advocacy with officials in Ottawa on a range of crisis files, the challenges to making progress, and the recent impact we have made together with our partners.

Please RSVP by Tuesday, October 8 to RSVPCanada@hrw.org.

Farida monitors human rights abuses in Canada and advocates for a rights-respecting Canadian foreign policy. Prior to joining Human Rights Watch, she worked at the United Nations with UNICEF, the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, and UN Women. Find her recent work and publications here.
